

Good afternoon friends. This week our pastors continue vacations with their families, so continue to pray for their physical, spiritual and emotional renewal as they rest. They deserve it! This Sunday, please join us, along with our guest speaker Pastor Donnalyn Froese, as she speaks about "Living in the In-Between". You can worship with us online at 10:30 (or really, any time!) by clicking here:

After the service, you may want to drill down into some of these questions during your private devotions and journalling, with a friend, or with your small group:

Covid 19 has thrown us all a curve ball. How are you coping with your changed world?

Our scripture this week is from Habakkuk 3:17-19. In this passage, Habakkuk gives us several lessons that can assist us during this time:

1. Habakkuk went to his "high-tower" to wait on the Lord.

Do you have a "high-tower" - a place you go to wait on the Lord?

How do you know when you have an answer from God?

2. Be patient with God's timeline

Habakkuk wrote (chapter 2, verse 20) "But the Lord is in his holy temple. Let all the earth be silent before him."

During Covid-19 have you discovered where God wants to take you next in your life?

3. Pause and reflect where we have seen God work

Habakkuk recounted Judah's history with God and it strengthened his faith in God.

What has your past taught you about God's present and work within your life?

4. Let praise fill our hearts

Habakkuk had not yet seen the outcome of God's plan yet he wrote, "I will rejoice in the Lord!"

Reflect and share how you are rejoicing in the Lord - how He has blessed and given you peace.

This week, focus on all the ways God has blessed you, and rest in His peace.
